

Problem: People are unconsciously polluting environment, and they aren't aware of consequences and how serious it is.

Solution:

We should raise environmentalism to the level of general education. For example, introduce new subjects in primary and secondary schools concerning environmentalism or introduce actions that every adult citizen have to participate in (plant 1 tree per year).

Nevena Blagojevic